

2019-2020 Cultural Arts and Heritage Report

Submitted by Marilyn Watson, KEHA Cultural Arts Chairman

There were all 14 areas reporting on the Program of Work. Looking at the totals for Cultural Arts even during this different year is still very impressive. Why not? Homemakers are the best. We have been very busy and diversified in the Arts; Reading books, Writing, Weaving, and making masks .Also, time has been limited on the fund raising for your projects, but we have made an impact on our communities.

Additional Comments/Feedback

- Limited opportunities due to no FCS agent and COVID shut down.
- Covid-19 prevented projects & classes from being conducted.
- Our county read 550 books. Our book club for the year was a traveling book club. We exchanged books with each other. I am not sure what the reading award program was, but will check into it for the new year.
- One of the two clubs reported that they did not meet during COVID-19.
- One club held craft classes during COVID, using zoom and practicing all COVID rules when in person.
- The Pandemic caused the cancellation of in-person meetings which resulted in a reduction in crafts made to support the county program and KEHA endeavors.
- send cards to sick and shut in.
- Covid affected all areas this year!
- Member made "A Bracelet Helper" for all of her club members.
- Club members participated in Relay for Life project in 2020 and helped set up window on the Square for event.
- Our club prepared a gift basket for our local fire department, ambulance, and EMT service.
- Collected food for local food pantry
- 5 members helped
- There was not enough input from club members to complete with accuracy. Due to Covid our club did not meet and all programs were cancelled.
- Homemakers had more time due to the pandemic to practice their cultural arts skills.
- 'homemaker members taught virtual classes on card making, knitting and crocheting during covid
- Several questions ask here were not on our paperwork.
- Multiple people participated in UK Big Blue Book Club
- Book Read 800
