MANAGEMENT AND SAFETY

Lesson 2. Handy to Have: Emergency Health Information Cards

Written by: Katherine Jury, M.S., Extension Specialist - Family Health

Lesson Description: An Emergency Health Information (EHI) Card can be a helpful tool to have. If you are ever in an emergency where you need immediate medical treatment, but are not able to communicate with first responders, an EHI Card can tell medical providers important information about how to help you. This lesson focuses on who can benefit from carrying an EHI card, information that should, and should not be included on an EHI Card, and where to put copies of an EHI Card. Curriculum materials include EHI Card template, participant handout, facilitator's guide, PowerPoint slides and evaluation.

Rationale: The National Safety Council reports that over 5 million accidents occur in the United States each year, with 43% of those resulting in injuries. Many emergency calls would be made smoother if the injured or ill person was in possession of an Emergency Health Information Card. The content in this lesson promotes and encourages general health and medical self-advocacy through the means of a tool, emergency health information cards. This information is relevant to Homemakers and the adult population in general.

Goal: Increase use of Emergency Health Information Cards among adults, leading to better health outcomes in emergencies.

Objectives:

- Identify who can benefit from carrying an EHI card.
- Describe information that should and should not be included on an EHI Card.
- List where to put copies of an EHI Card.

Lesson Materials Include:
